

the FANTASY MUSIC collection

A collection of pre-licensed video game music and loops designed for fantasy and adventure games

- By John Leonard French -

About the pack

The Fantasy Music collection is a suite of orchestral music designed to suit typical scenarios in fantasy and adventure games. Made with developers in mind, each track has been produced to professional standards using the highest quality instruments, tools and techniques, delivered as CD quality, uncompressed .wav files ready for use.

Pro edition: All 20 tracks + 4 bonus tracks.
Starter edition (free): 4 selected tracks from the PRO edition (see track list for info).

Professional quality on a budget

The tracks in this pack have been created using industry-quality tools and techniques. From composition to mastering, each track has been carefully written for typical scenarios and then post-produced to professional standards. Using exquisite and meticulously sampled instruments, the Fantasy Music collection offers natural, cinematic orchestral arrangements at a significantly lower price.

Seamless loops

Because I edit my loops to only repeat at the zero crossing point of the wave and because the audio's reverb tail is carefully applied to the start of each loop, all your looping tracks are perfectly seamless. No pops or clicks, guaranteed.

(For best results, use uncompressed audio or, if compressing, use OGG Vorbis. mp3 is not usually suitable for looping, it can cause a silence in the track, unless 'gapless looping' is available and enabled.)

About me

I'm a production music composer with a genuine interest in creating music for video games. During my degree I wrote my university's first study on music in video games and since graduating I've been working on production music packs such as this, scores for short films and making music for other media productions. I'm always interested in hearing about projects so for collaborations, Kickstarters, private commissions or just a chat feel free to get in touch.
